11 Certification

Certification is assigned Workshop by Workshop, if the proper conditions of achievement and attendance are guaranteed, as defined for each one of them.

All trainees must have a minimum attendance of 70% distributed throughout the training period and, cumulatively, for training activities which provide for the holding of any examination, achievement of no less than 50%.

Attendance is proven by signing the attendance sheet that is in the training room and should be signed by all trainees present, in each period up to 4 hours of classes.

If the Workshop involves the completion of an examination that trainees successfully achieve equal to or greater than 50%, a Diploma will be attributed to them.

If the training activity does not involve the conducting of an examination, to those students who have met the attendance requirement described above, a Certificate of Attendance will be awarded.

When certification is supposed to take place for a particular module of a training activity covering various Workshops/components, the certificate to be issued should discriminate them and in case any type of examination is expected, indicate the grade achieved in each of them.

12 Handling of Complaints

All complaints that any trainee wishes to formalize regarding a training activity in particular, should be directed to the Director of ACTUARIAL Group.

The complaint must be made within 5 working days from the fact that originated it and shall be formulated by letter (sent by mail or fax) or by email (ifa@actuarial.pt).

All complaints will be analysed carefully and impartially and after having cleared/gathered the elements necessary for its evaluation, the Director of ACTUARIAL Group will reply to the author of each one of them, within 10 working days.

The period referred to in the previous paragraph may be extended when a founded need for gathering evidence so justifies, but that fact should be justified within 10 working days from the date of presentation of the complaint, to its author.

The analysis of complaints and the collection of elements are deemed necessary for their proper treatment may lead to the implementation of remedial action during a training activity as well as requiring change and/or restructuring of any other future ones to be developed.
